Government agencies, universities and non-profit organizations with an interest in Ports are invited to become Cooperating Organizations. There is no financial commitment or risk. The only requirement is to help publicize the conference to your constituents via your, magazine, newsletter and/or website and granting permission to be listed in all conference materials. We also suggest that you provide the Congress Organizing Committee with your guidance and suggestions for potential short courses and session proposals. In return, the Congress will post your organization's name and web link on the congress website, and will also list it in all subsequent printed promotional pieces.

Best of all, your members or employees will receive the member registration rate.
