

Charles Meyer, P.E., F.ACEC is President and Chairman of the Board of Henry Adams, LLC in Baltimore, Md. He has extensive experience in designing mechanical and electrical systems for large commercial, governmental and institutional facilities, including Johns Hopkins University, the Baltimore Convention Center, the Maryland Academy of Sciences, the University of Maryland College Park, the University of Maryland Medical System, the Smithsonian Institution, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, the Walter Reed Army Medical Center, the National Park Service, the Historic Mount Vernon, the Washington Convention Center, and the Hippodrome Performing Arts Center. He has also conducted numerous risk assessments for major government facilities. He has made presentation at numerous conferences building security conferences, and participated in NIBS activities in the area of building security. He is Chair of the Advisory Committee and member of the Board of Directors of the Building Security Council, and a member of the Board of Governors of the Architectural Engineering Institute of ASCE (AEI). He is active in ASHRAE, ACEC, SAME, and the Engineering Society of Baltimore.

He received a B.S. in Mechanical Engineering from Cornell University and a Master of Business Administration, Finance from Southern Illinois University.